

I want to urge the FCC to continue giving current FM translator service priority over new Low Power FM service. The nationwide station Air 1 depends on the former broadcast to many communities. Air 1 makes a difference in the lives of people of all types in all kinds of situations, in a way that most stations don't, which are usually devoted to entertainment, news, and opinion. Air 1 includes all these in a spiritual context this nation desperately needs. The Bible has spoken to our souls since the beginning of this nation and will continue to do so, with some consideration from the government. Our government owes a lot of its stability and prosperity to the law-abiding, helpful dispositions the Bible promotes. It seems odd to have to ask for support from a government institution. You should be doing all you can to accomodate and undergird Biblical beliefs, or at least the help and moral character it promotes. Thanks.
